Dear Ms. Wilkinson:

In re: Mississippi Gulf Coast Apartment Market

In accordance with our contract pertaining to the local multifamily rental housing market, we have conducted a survey of the Mississippi Gulf Coast apartment market. This survey was conducted during March 2007 and included an inventory of existing properties, an analysis of those projects currently under construction and an assessment of current market conditions. The research undertaken formed the basis for the compilation of the statistical data contained in this report. The following paragraphs summarize our findings:

1. This survey includes both market-rent and subsidized (assisted) units located in multifamily rental housing properties containing eight or more units. The survey included 13,594 market-rent apartment units and 4,453 assisted units located on the Mississippi Gulf Coast. At the time of this report, a total of 126 new market-rent apartment units and 368 additional assisted rental units were under construction.
2. The March 2007 apartment survey indicates an overall vacancy rate of 6.7 percent among market-rent apartment units on the Mississippi Gulf Coast. In Hancock County the vacancy rate was 3.6 percent; in Harrison County, 6.6 percent; and 7.0 percent in Jackson County. The current vacancy rate falls within or near the top of the four to six percent range considered "normal" and desirable in areas experiencing moderate population growth.
3. The destruction caused by Hurricane Katrina, resulted in the demolition of a number of apartment complexes on the Mississippi Gulf Coast. Also, several apartment properties that sustained extensive damage still remain unavailable for occupancy eighteen months after the hurricane. The removal of a large number of apartment units altered the supply-demand relationships in the local apartment market. Many of the apartment properties that were severely damaged are being renovated. As these refurbished apartment units are placed back on the market, it is a process similar to that experienced in a newly constructed property first being introduced to the market. The two main similarities are the "initial rent-up" period and higher monthly rental rates that are typically associated with new construction. The removal of a large number of pre-Katrina apartment units and replacing them with new or refurbished rental units has significantly changed the price-supply relationships in the local market.

4. The March 2007 apartment survey indicated that the Biloxi area contains a total of 4,950 market-rent apartment units that are operational. The vacancy rate in the Biloxi area at the time of this report was 5.5 percent. Twelve apartment complexes containing 569 units have been demolished in Biloxi as a result of the destruction caused by Hurricane Katrina. In addition, a total of nine developments containing 867 apartment units remain unavailable for occupancy. The properties still unavailable for occupancy at the time of this survey consisted of 646 assisted apartment units and 221 market-rent units. A total of 143 studio apartments were surveyed in Biloxi and the average monthly rental rate was $380.00. Among the 1,676 one-bedroom apartments, the average monthly rental rate was $667.11 and the average increased 44.4 percent over the average in the October 2004 survey. A total of 2,646 two-bedroom apartment units were surveyed in the Biloxi area and the average rental rate was $780.26 which is an increase of 34.1 percent over the average in the 2004 survey. A total of 485 three-bedroom apartment units were surveyed and the average rental rate was $950.89 and has increased 29.3 percent since the last pre-Katrina apartment survey.

5. The March 2007 apartment survey indicated that the Gulfport area contained a total of 3,456 market-rent apartment units that were currently operational and the vacancy rate was 8.2 percent. As a result of the destruction caused by Hurricane Katrina, twenty-one apartment complexes containing 809-units have been demolished in Gulfport. In addition a total of eleven apartment developments containing 790 apartment units remain closed and were not available for occupancy at the time of the survey. Of the apartment units in the eleven properties that remain closed in Gulfport, 336 are assisted apartment units and 454 units are market-rent. In the Gulfport area the average monthly rental rate among one-bedroom apartments surveyed was $660.66 and has increased 40.8 percent since the last apartment survey in October 2004. The average rental rate among two-bedroom apartments in the Gulfport area is $744.87 and has increased 32.6 percent over the average in the previous survey. Among three-bedroom apartments the average rental rate was $918.10 and has increased 22.8 percent since the pre-Katrina survey in 2004.

6. The latest survey of the Pascagoula area indicated an overall vacancy rate of 7.0 percent which is slightly above the four to six percent range considered "normal" in areas experiencing moderate growth. The latest survey indicated a total of fifty-six studio apartments existed and the vacancy rate was 1.8 percent. The average rental rate among studio units was $520.71. Among the 950 one-bedroom apartment units surveyed the average monthly rental rate was $524.84 and increased 29.1 percent over the average in October 2004. The vacancy rate among one-bedroom units in the Pascagoula area is 4.8 percent. A total of 1,920 two-bedroom apartments were surveyed in the Pascagoula area and 7.8 percent of these units were vacant. The average rental rate among two-bedroom apartments in the Pascagoula area is $647.43 and has increased 32.7 percent over the average monthly rental rate in the last survey. A total of 312 three-bedroom apartment units were surveyed in the Pascagoula area and the average monthly rental rate was $704.39. The average monthly rental rate among three-bedroom apartments increased 16.8 percent over the average in the 2004 survey.

7. In the three-coastal Counties, Harrison County has the largest number of apartment units. In Harrison County the average "asking rental rate" among vacant one-bedroom apartments is $676.78 compared to $662.66 average among all market-rent one-bedroom apartments. The average "asking rent" among two-bedroom apartments is $767.69 compared to $755.49 for all market-rent two-bedroom apartments surveyed. Among three-bedroom apartments the average “asking rent” among vacant units was $943.33 compared to the average among all three bedroom apartments of $934.40. The “spread” between the average rental rate of all apartment units and the “asking” rental rate among vacant units indicates a concentration of vacancies among apartments with rental rates higher than the average.

8. A total of 4,453 assisted apartment units are included in this survey. The vacancy rate among assisted units is 0.1 percent and below the overall rate among market-rent apartment units. At present, 368 assisted rental units are under construction. Also, an additional 1,476 rental units in seventeen developments have been approved for coverage under the Low Income Housing Tax Credit program. Three of these developments are single-family residential subdivisions and fourteen are multifamily housing structures.

If you should have any question regarding the Mississippi Gulf Coast apartment market, please call.

MISSISSIPPI GULF COAST APARTMENT MARKET

INTRODUCTION

The Mississippi Gulf Coast Apartment Survey was updated during March 2007. This survey is part of a series of reports on the Mississippi Gulf Coast apartment market and is the first since Hurricane Katrina. These surveys included both market-rent and subsidized (assisted) apartment units in rental properties containing eight or more rental housing units located in Hancock, Harrison and Jackson Counties. Excluded from these surveys, are properties offering “vacation” rentals, duplex rental subdivisions and condominium units that are owner-occupied. The purpose of these surveys is to provide an overview of the local apartment market. Through the availability of impartial data on the local apartment market, it is hoped that new construction will be stimulated when needed and discouraged when not. Hopefully, this report will contribute to balanced conditions within the local apartment market in the three coastal Counties; thereby, providing support to the healthy development of the community.

The local apartment market can be segmented by variables such as number of bedrooms, location and market-rent or subsidized. For presentation, the findings in this survey are segmented by these variables. Since the greatest differentiation among rental housing properties is between market-rent apartments and those providing a direct or indirect form of rental assistance; the assisted properties were excluded from the majority of this analysis, and provided special treatment in the final segment of this report.

MARKET-RENT APARTMENT MARKET

One of the purposes of this report is to present an overview of the local apartment market. An indication of current conditions can be obtained through an analysis of the supply-demand and price-supply relationships within the local apartment market. A high degree of utilization of the supply of apartment units would exist if almost all of the rental units in the local market were occupied. This situation would reflect “tight” market conditions. Conversely, if the supply of apartment units substantially exceeded demand and resulted in a large number of vacancies, “soft” market conditions would exist. A “balance” in the supply and demand of apartment units would indicate market equilibrium and is the desirable condition.

A review of the development of the local apartment market is a logical starting point for examining the supply. Multifamily rental housing has existed on the Mississippi Gulf Coast for many years. A total of 408 apartment units exist today that were built during or before 1965. Between 1965 and 1970, the size of the local apartment market increased at a slow but stable rate. This phase was followed by four years of a high volume of multifamily rental housing construction. A sharp decline in apartment construction occurred in 1975 and remained at a low level until 1981 when an additional 413 apartment units were placed on the market. Between 1983 and 1987, the volume of apartment construction remained relatively high before declining and remaining at a substantially lower level during the next seven years. A surge in construction occurred during 1995 and 1996 when a total of 1,407 new apartment units were placed on the market. A decline in the volume of construction activity followed before increasing again. Since 2000, a total of 2,573 new units were placed on the market and an additional 126 market-rent apartment units are currently under construction. Many of the large properties developed since the mid-nineties could be characterized as “up-scale” and includes such extras as ceiling fans, fireplaces, nine-foot ceilings, crown molding, fitness centers, hot tubs, security systems, extensive landscaping and an emphasize on quality of construction. Contained in Table 1 is the volume of apartment construction on the Mississippi Gulf Coast by year between 1965 and 2007.

The supply-demand relationships in the local apartment market are reflected in the utilization of apartment units and indicate the condition of the local apartment market. The number of vacant apartment units available “for rent” expressed as a percent of all apartment units in the local market, is the effective vacancy rate. In large apartment markets, “typical” tenant turnover frequently results in what could be called “permanent” vacancies when viewing the overall market. The time period between “move out” and “move in” are examples of vacancies that will always exist in a market experiencing change and includes the preparation of vacant units for re-occupancy and the screening of new prospective tenants. Vacancies resulting from the “initial rent-up” of newly constructed properties are also a component of the permanent vacancy rate. Population growth can be translated into an increase in the number of households. In order to satisfy long-term housing demand, new construction starts should be at levels sufficient to satisfy rental housing replacement and net household formation requirements. The rate of population growth is related to the justification of additional apartment construction, which results in an increased level of vacancies due to the “initial rent-up” of newly constructed properties. Therefore, the “normal” vacancy rate is described on a sliding scale based on the rate of household growth in the local apartment market. Assuming no shift in tenure (i.e. a change in the proportion of owner or renter occupants in the local housing market), a housing market with limited in-migration and slow population growth requires a smaller proportion of vacant rental housing and less residential construction than a market experiencing rapid population growth. In communities experiencing a “moderate” rate of population growth, an apartment market vacancy rate between four and six percent is considered “normal” and would provide sufficient rental housing to accommodate “moderate” growth. In areas experiencing a “rapid” rate of population growth, a vacancy rate between seven and eight percent could accommodate these new households and would be considered “normal” and desirable. An annual population growth rate of less than one percent would be considered a slow rate of growth. A growth rate between one and five percent would be a “moderate” rate of growth and annual increases of more than five percent is considered a “rapid” rate of growth. Based on U.S. Census population data for the years before Katrina, the annual growth rate in Hancock County was 3.4 percent, in Harrison County the rate was 1.4 percent and 1.3 percent in Jackson County. It is concluded that during the years before Katrina, the Mississippi Gulf Coast was experiencing a “moderate” rate of population growth. When analyzing the local apartment market, the number of apartment units demolished or rendered uninhabitable as a result of Katrina is of similar importance as the current growth rate.

An overview of the supply-demand relationships in the Mississippi Gulf Coast apartment market is presented in Table 2. Contained in this tabulation is the number of completed market-rent apartment units and the number of vacant units available for occupancy at the time of this survey. The overall apartment vacancy rate on the Mississippi Gulf Coast in March 2007 was 6.7 percent. The current vacancy rate is near top of the four to six percent range considered “normal” in areas experiencing a “moderate” rate of growth.

The apartment supply and vacancy data contained in the previous tabulation can be segmented by city. By segmenting the data, a more detailed analysis of the entire market as well as each city is presented. The local multifamily rental housing stock is not a homogeneous market and conditions vary between submarkets. The cities of Biloxi, Gulfport and Pascagoula contain the majority of the apartments and account for seventy-five percent of the market-rent apartments units on the Mississippi Gulf Coast. The city of Biloxi contains 4,360 market-rent apartment units and has a vacancy rate of 5.7 percent, Gulfport contains 3,416 nonassisted multifamily rental housing units with a vacancy rate of 8.3 percent and Pascagoula contains 2,359 apartment units and has a vacancy rate of 6.7 percent. Contained in Table 3 is the apartment unit supply and vacancy rate for each city in the Mississippi Gulf Coast apartment market.

Table 5 presents a historical review of the number of market-rent apartment units, vacant units and vacancy rate by city or place, contained in surveys conducted between September 1994 and March 2007. In 1994, a total of 12,316 apartments units existed and 11,906 were occupied and increased to 16,977 existing units with 15,395 occupied in October 2004. Because of Hurricane Katrina, there was no apartment survey in 2005 or 2006. As a result of the hurricane, number of properties have been removed from the market or remain unavailable for occupancy. The March 2007 survey indicated a total of 13,594 market-rent apartment units in properties containing eight units or more that were operational and 12,684 apartments were occupied.

THE BAY SAINT LOUIS AREA

The apartment market in Hancock County is relatively small and all of the apartment properties are located in the Bay St. Louis-Waveland area. The vacancy rate in this submarket is 3.6 percent and below the range considered “normal” for an area experiencing “moderate” growth. The March 2007 survey indicated a total 169 market-rate apartment units are operational in this sub-market. A total of 176 apartment units located in four developments were demolished in the Bay St. Louis-Waveland area as a result of the destruction caused by Hurricane Katrina and another 634 units in nine developments were so severely damaged that eighteen months after the hurricane were still unavailable for occupancy. The complexes that were demolished contained a total of 176 housing units that provided “deep” rental assistance. The nine properties that are unavailable for occupancy contained a total of 270 assisted apartments units and 364 market-rent apartments. Contained in Table 6 are characteristics of the apartments located in the Bay St. Louis-Waveland area.

In Hancock County, five multifamily housing developments containing 525 apartment units have been approved for coverage under the Low Income Housing Tax Credit program but construction has not begun. The 129-unit Bay Pines (Community Development Block Grant) is planned for Bay St. Louis, the 120-unit Ridge of Diamondhead and the 96-unit Waves Apartments will be located in Diamondhead. Planned for Waveland are the 80-unit Oak Haven Apartments (CDBG) and the 100-unit Waveview Place (CDBG).

THE BILOXI AREA

The March 2007 apartment survey indicated that the Biloxi area contains a total of 4,950 market-rent apartment units that are operational. Twelve apartment complexes containing 569 units have been demolished in Biloxi as a result of the destruction caused by Hurricane Katrina. In addition, a total of nine developments containing 867 apartment units remain unavailable for occupancy. The properties still unavailable for occupancy at the time of this survey consisted of 646 assisted apartment units and 221 market-rent units.

The 2007 apartment survey indicates a 5.5 percent effective vacancy rate in the Biloxi area among market-rent apartments. The average rental rate among all market-rent one-bedroom apartments in the Biloxi area is $667.11 and the average “asking rental rate” among vacant one-bedroom apartments is $679.41. The “spread” between the average rental rate of all apartment units and the “asking” rental rate among vacant units indicates a concentration of vacancies among apartments with rental rates higher than the average. Segmenting the current vacancy rate by number of bedrooms indicates a 2.8 percent vacancy rate among studio units; for one-bedroom units, 5.1 percent; among two-bedroom apartments, 6.1 percent and 4.1 percent among three-bedroom units.

A total of 143 studio apartments were surveyed in Biloxi and the average monthly rental rate was $380.00. Among the 1,676 one-bedroom apartments, the average monthly rental rate was $667.11 and the average increased 44.4 percent over the average in the October 2004 survey. A total of 2,646 two-bedroom apartment units were surveyed in the Biloxi area and the average rental rate was $780.26 which is an increase of 34.1 percent over the average in the 2004 survey. A total of 485 three-bedroom apartment units were surveyed and the average rental rate was $950.89 and has increased 29.3 percent since the last pre-Katrina apartment survey.

Contained in Table 8 are selected characteristics of market-rent apartment units located in the Biloxi area. This tabulation includes the current number of vacant units available for rent, the number of existing units that are operational, the average rental rate by bedroom type, the percent change in the average monthly rental rate since the October 2004 survey, the average “asking” rental rate among vacant units and the average size in square feet of these apartment units. Also included is a range of monthly rental rates and size in square feet which includes sixty-seven percent of all apartments surveyed in the Biloxi area. This range is a standard measure of the dispersion of values around the average. If there is a small amount of dispersion, then the average is very representative of the local market. Conversely, a large dispersion indicates a wide range of values and the average is not very representative of the local apartment market.

Contained in Table 12 is an overview of the rental rate structure in Harrison County and the three submarkets in this County. Table 12 presents the dispersion of monthly rental rates around the median. The median rental rate is the mid-point or value that divides the distribution of monthly rental rates into two equal parts; one-half of the rental rates fall above the median rental rate and one-half below. The median is very descriptive because it reflects the "typical" rental rate. For example, if the monthly rental rate of a two-bedroom apartment unit in the Biloxi area was $810, it would be near the middle of the market because the median is $808.89. If the same two-bedroom apartment rented for $870, it would be near the top of the market (eighth decile equals $870.38) with eighty percent of the two-bedroom apartments in the Biloxi area renting for less.

THE OCEAN SPRINGS AREA

The March 2007 apartment survey indicated that the Oceans Springs area contained a total of 1,247 market-rent apartment units. In this submarket, two apartment complexes totaling 111 market-rent units were demolished as a result of the destruction caused by Katrina. Currently, the Ocean Springs area has an overall vacancy rate of 7.1 percent. Segmenting the current vacancy rate by number of bedrooms indicates a 6.1 percent vacancy rate among one-bedroom units, 7.3 percent among two-bedroom apartments and a 9.3 percent vacancy rate among three-bedroom units.

Among the 377 one-bedroom apartments surveyed in the Oceans Springs area, the average rental rate was $696.29 and has increased 26.9 percent over the one-bedroom average rental rate in the 2004 survey. A total of 752 two-bedroom apartment units were surveyed in the Ocean Springs area and the average monthly rental rate was $779.44 which is 24.6 percent higher than the two-bedroom average rental rate in the previous survey. Among the 118 three-bedroom apartment units surveyed the average monthly rental rate was $946.58 which is a 23.2 percent increase over the average in the October 2004 survey.

In the Ocean Springs area the average “asking rental rate” among vacant one-bedroom apartments is $734.55 compared to the $696.29 average among all market-rent one-bedroom apartments. The average “asking rent” among two-bedroom apartments is $800.45 compared to $779.44 for all market-rent two-bedroom apartments surveyed. Among three-bedroom apartments the average “asking rent” among vacant units was $941.55 and similar to the $946.58 average among all three-bedroom apartments. The “spread” between the average rental rate of all apartment units and the “asking” rental rate among vacant one and two-bedroom apartments indicates a concentration of vacancies among one and two-bedroom apartments with rental rates higher than the average. Contained in Table 13 are selected characteristics of market-rent apartment units in the Ocean Springs area.

At present no additional market-rent apartments are under construction in the Ocean Springs area. However, several low-density condominium/townhouse developments are under construction. In addition, four proposed rental housing developments have been approved for coverage under the Low Income Housing Tax Credit program but construction has not begun. Planned for the Ocean Springs area is the 56-unit Colonnades, the 120-unit Lexington Park Apartments and the 120-unit Ocean Estates II. Colonnades and Lexington Park are multifamily rental housing complexes and Ocean Estates is a single-family residential subdivision.

THE PASCAGOULA AREA

The latest apartment survey indicates that the Pascagoula area contains a total of 3,238 market-rent apartment units. Before 1970, this housing market was relatively small in terms of multifamily rental housing. In Jackson County only 446 market-rent apartment units exist today that were built in 1970 or before and only 391 units existed in the Pascagoula area. During the seventies, a large number of apartment units were built in the Pascagoula area. The rapid increase in the number of apartment properties resulted in an increase in supply that caused this market to remain “overbuilt” for a number of years. Since the mid-eighties, there has been very little market-rent apartment construction in the Pascagoula area. The only large market-rent apartment construction has been two properties located in Gautier. However, a large complex financed by Tax Exempt Bonds was recently completed in Pascagoula. This property has income and rental rate restrictions similar to the Low Income Housing Tax Credit program. Also, a 52-unit complex covered under the Low Income Housing Tax Credit program was completed during 2004 in Pascagoula and another, a 48-unit complex was completed in 2005. Two apartment properties in Pascagoula containing 208 assisted apartment units were demolished as a result of the damage sustained by Hurricane Katrina. In addition, four apartment properties containing 200 units sustained substantial damage from the Hurricane and remain unavailable for occupancy.

The latest survey of the Pascagoula area indicated an overall vacancy rate of 7.0 percent which is slightly above the four to six percent range considered “normal” in areas experiencing moderate growth. The latest survey indicated a total of fifty-six studio apartments existed and the vacancy rate was 1.8 percent. The average rental rate among studio units was $520.71. Among the 950 one-bedroom apartment units surveyed the average monthly rental rate was $524.84 and increased 29.1 percent over the average in October 2004. The vacancy rate among one-bedroom units in the Pascagoula area is 4.8 percent. A total of 1,920 two-bedroom apartments were surveyed in the Pascagoula area and 7.8 percent of these units were vacant. The average rental rate among two-bedroom apartments in the Pascagoula area is $647.43 and has increased 32.7 percent over the average monthly rental rate in the last survey. A total of 312 three-bedroom apartment units were surveyed in the Pascagoula area and the average monthly rental rate was $704.39. The average monthly rental rate among three-bedroom apartments increased 16.8 percent over the average in the 2004 survey. Table 14 contains selected characteristics of the market-rent apartment units in the Pascagoula area.

In the Pascagoula area, two proposed rental housing complexes have been approved for coverage under the Low Income Housing Tax Credit program but construction has not begun. The 120-unit Morrison Village and the 144-Taylor Heights (Community Development Block Grant) are to be located in Pascagoula.

JACKSON COUNTY

A total of 4,485 market-rent apartment units were surveyed in Jackson County and the vacancy rate was 7.0 percent. Segmenting the vacancy rate by number of bedroom indicates a 1.8 percent vacancy rate among studio units, among one-bedroom units the rate is 5.2 percent, 7.7 percent among two-bedroom units and 9.5 percent among three-bedroom apartments. Among the 1,327 one-bedroom apartment units surveyed, the average rental rate was $568.31 and has increased 26.8 percent since the last survey in 2004. A total of 2,672 two-bedroom apartment units were surveyed and the average monthly rental rate was $647.43 which is a 22.6 percent increase over the previous survey conducted in October 2004. A total of 430 three-bedroom apartments were surveyed and the average monthly rental rate was $754.10 which is an increase of 14.5 percent over the average in 2004. At present no additional market-rent apartment units are under construction in Jackson County but several low-density condominium/townhouse developments are under construction. Also, five developments consisting of 560 rental housing units have been approved for coverage under the Low Income Housing Tax Credit program but construction has not begun. Contained in Table 15 are selected characteristics of the market-rent apartment units located in Jackson County.

The median one-bedroom apartment unit monthly rental rate in the Ocean Springs area is $668.56, among two-bedroom the median is $767.54 and among three-bedroom apartments $925.95. The median monthly rental rate in the Pascagoula area for a one-bedroom apartment is $498.17, among two-bedroom units the median rental rate is $612.87 and $660.00 among three-bedroom apartments. The median rental rate in the Ocean Springs area is substantially higher than the median rental rate in the Pascagoula area. In our opinion, the higher median rental rates in the Ocean Springs area results from the fact that the Ocean Springs area contains several large market-rent apartment properties that were recently constructed which typically supports a higher rental rate.

ASSISTED APARTMENT MARKET

Assisted apartments differ from market-rent units in that they receive governmental assistance and eligibility for occupancy is based on income. Assisted projects developed under Section 221d3, Section 8, Section 202/8 and low rent public housing are intended to be responsive to the housing needs of low income households. These projects are considered to provide a “deep” rental subsidy. The apartments covered under Section 236, Section 236/202 and Section 515 provide “shallow” form of rental assistance. Properties developed under the Low Income Housing Tax Credit or the Tax Free Bond programs indirectly provide a “shallow” subsidy through income and rental rate restrictions. These properties have a specified number of units that must be rented to households making not more than an established percent of the area’s median income. The typical restriction is that the apartment units must be rented with income no greater than sixty percent of the area’s median income.

Contained in Table 17, Table 18 and Table 19 are an overview of the supply and vacancy of assisted apartment units located in the three coastal Counties. In Hancock County a total of 188 assisted apartment units exist and none were found vacant at the time of the survey. In Harrison County a total of 2,696 assisted apartments exist and 0.1 percent were found vacant. Jackson County contains 1,569 assisted apartment units and 0.1 percent were also found vacant.

Table 20 contains similar information to the previous three tabulations but includes a summary of the subsidized apartment units on the Mississippi Gulf Coast. In total, 4,453 assisted apartment units exist in the three County area and the vacancy rate was 0.1 percent and below the overall rate among market-rent apartment units. At present, 368 assisted multifamily rental housing units are under construction.

CONCLUSION

The March 2007 apartment survey indicates an overall vacancy rate of 6.7 percent among market-rent apartment units on the Mississippi Gulf Coast. In Hancock County the vacancy rate was 3.6 percent; in Harrison County, 6.6 percent; and 7.0 percent in Jackson County. The current vacancy rate falls near the top of the four to six percent range considered “normal” and desirable in areas experiencing moderate population growth.

The destruction caused by Hurricane Katrina, resulted in the demolition of a number of apartment complexes on the Mississippi Gulf Coast. Also, several apartment properties that sustained extensive damage still remain unavailable for occupancy eighteen months after the hurricane. The removal of a large number of apartment units altered the supply-demand relationships in the local apartment market. Many of the apartment properties that were severely damaged are being renovated. As these refurbished apartment units are placed back on the market, it is a process similar to that experienced in a newly constructed property first being introduced to the market. The two main similarities are the “initial rent-up” period and higher monthly rental rates that are typically associated with new construction. The removal of a large number of pre-Katrina apartment units and replacing them with new or refurbished rental rates has significantly changed the price-supply relationships in the local market.

In the three-coastal Counties, Harrison County has the largest number of apartment units. Among the 2,794 one-bedroom apartment units surveyed in Harrison County, the average rental rate was $662.66 and has increased 40.8 percent over the average in the October 2004 survey. A total of 5,092 two-bedroom apartment units were surveyed and the monthly rental rate was $755.49 which is a 33.9 percent increase over the average two-bedroom rental rate in the previous survey. A total of 856 three-bedroom apartments were surveyed and the average monthly rental rate was $934.40 which is a 25.2 percent increase over the average rental rate in the 2004 survey.

In Harrison County the average “asking rental rate” among vacant one-bedroom apartments is $676.78 compared to $662.66 average among all market-rent one-bedroom apartments. The average “asking rent” among two-bedroom apartments is $767.69 compared to $755.49 for all market-rent two-bedroom apartments surveyed. Among three-bedroom apartments the average “asking rent” among vacant units was $943.33 compared to the average among all three-bedroom apartments of $934.40. The “spread” between the average rental rate of all apartment units and the “asking” rental rate among vacant units indicates a concentration of vacancies among apartments with rental rates higher than the average.

A total of 4,453 assisted apartment units are included in this survey. The vacancy rate among assisted units is 0.1 percent and below the overall rate among market-rent apartment units. At present, 368 assisted rental units are under construction. Also, an additional 1,476 units in seventeen developments have been approved for coverage under the Low Income Housing Tax Credit program. Three of these developments are single-family residential subdivisions and fourteen are multifamily housing structures.
